THE SENIOR CLASS OF
MANASSAS REGIONAL HIGH SCHOOL
Manassas, Virginia

We treasure the memories of our school life and realize that they will become even more priceless to us through the years. Perhaps through the pages of this volume of the Jay Dee, we can portray to others and keep for ourselves some of our cherished memories. We present it not as a great literary product but simply as a picture of happy years in Manassas Regional High. It is our wish that the joy received from this book in later years will repay us for our efforts toward making it a success.

DEDICATION

We, the Seniors of 1954, do proudly dedicate this annual:

To You--Our Parents:

In sincere appreciation of your untiring efforts and faithful symathetic understanding as we ventured along life's pathway, we the Seniors, humbly express our gratitude.

To You--Our Teachers:

For your guidance and fellowship which steered us safely over the stormy sea of curricula and extra-curricular activities to the "Port of Graduation," we shall always hold you in admiration and appreciation.

To You--Our Alma Mater:

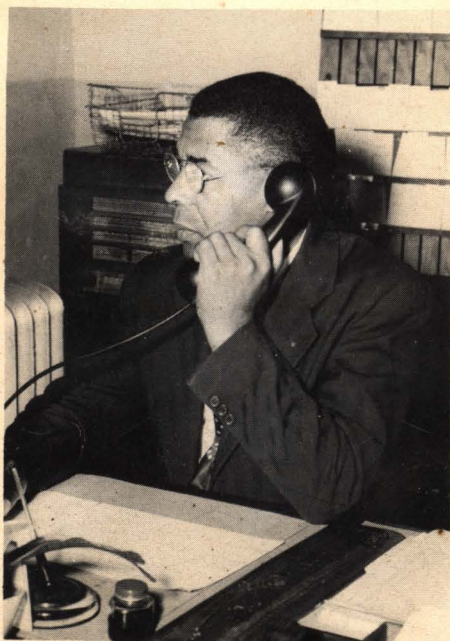

With pride in its past, and with faith in its future, we inscribe these pages to its lasting memory.

CLASS HISTORY

It was in the year of 1949 that a band of wide eyed, half frightened but determined adventure seekers set out on a voyage by way of The Manassas Regional High School. We were indeed a band of eager shipmen determined to overcome our fears and to undergo all obstacles that would seek to deter our efforts to stay on course.

Naturally a ship with its crew is lost without having captains who know the rough and rugged course by which we were to follow for our captains were indeed chosen wisely. Namely, they were Mrs. Ruby Short, Mr. John Jones, Mr. Purmon Ellis, I, Mrs. Natalie Vaughn, and Mrs. Cleopatra Branson. On a voyage as long as ours we needed symbols to be represented by and junior commanding officers of the crew in command so as to keep the crew busy. After careful consideration of the many ideas of the crew we selected our colors to be maroon and white; our flower, white carnation, and our motto to be "Learn to Live and Live to Learn." After this duty, we selected our officers: president, Paula Gaskins; Vice president, Madlyn Slaughter; secretary, Betty Rector; treasurer, Trigg Cheek and chaplain, Anna Robinson. Of course, there wasn't much need for a treasurer as the finances of a young crew were very low.

The trials that we encountered on the first year of our voyage were numerous for we were not accustomed to the ways and laws of our new surroundings. Many were the times that we had to be called together in order to be disciplined and to be reminded of our individual tasks. We toiled endlessly under the strain of our new found experiences. Each year with the change we became stronger, and more eager to reach our destination and to receive the many honors that we were certain to receive for our toils. There are always heart aches, especially on a long toilsome voyage such as ours and our heart aches and losses were many. Many of the crew could not withstand the strain of our tedious voyage and fell by the wayside only to be rushed away with the tide and lost never to be found again. Some others of our crew boarded another ship in order to make our trip less difficult. We mourned at these misfortunes for we had become one large family and had affections for each other equal to those of sisters and brothers. Our instructors were forbearing and kind but made it understood that whether or not we reached our destination was left entirely up to us. We understood the situation well and there was no question as to our turning back. Our minds were focused ahead. We were going to be the future doctors, lawyers, merchants, architects, home economists, housekeepers, and descent respectable people that the world wants. We realized that we were not setting out on an ocean of smooth sailing all the way and we knew that we weren't going to stand wavering from side to side between the riches of the future and poverties of the past when we could just as easily have the riches as any others of our associates.

There were countless occasions on which we received pleasure out of our trip but the time which we believed to be the most pleasantly spent was when we had the opportunity of entertaining our senior shipmates at only the third year of our five year voyage. This was indeed a pleasure for we were the first band of ship men that had ever been granted the privilege of entertaining our senior shipmates at such a young stage of our voyage. Of course, being so fortunate as to have shipmates and captains with extreme abilities, we ventured into having an entertainment with the highest class atmosphere that had been displayed in our surroundings.

The fourth year of our voyage was spent more easily than the past years for we had more self assurance and we had built up in and among us a wall of geniality that no one could tear down. We had grown from the past years not only in stature but we had grown also in grace. The once hard tasks which we had to perform had become only trivial matters which could be taken care of and then set aside for more prolonged duties which had to be done. We were now in the stage of our trip when we could help to keep others on course. We still had a lot to learn but we were taking that which we had learned and were putting it to good use.

Alas! Comes the year of 1954. Our final year to be with one another had come. We worked with great enthusiasm this year for we know that our reward would be coming soon. We would soon reach land--receive our diplomas. We realized that when we reached our destination that it would be only the first big trip toward our aims and we planned not only to stop there but to keep on sailing. We worked hard our last year preparing for the big day when we would receive credit for our first year of struggle. We started out by selecting officers that would land us successfully ashore. They were president, Carl Naylor; vice president, Rachel Lamb; secretary, Deloris Foote; assistant secretary, Shirley Tutt and treasurer, Norma Shackelford. We had learned the value of money by this time and we knew that our finances would be great. All we could do was to work and work hard for the final day of our voyage and greatest day of our lives.

The great day finally came and after having our records carefully inspected by our Grand Captain, the principal, we were permitted to step ashore and on stepping shore we were the proud receivers of diplomas for being a brave and intelligent crew leaving the Manassas Regional High School.

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

We, the class of '54, Manassas Regional High School, being of sound mind and endowed with wisdom by our instructors here at Manassas Regional High, do hereby ordain this to be our last Will and Testament. To our Alma Mater, we pledge our loyalty that she may bestow upon others her guidance and promote friendly relationships as she has done in the past upon us.

To the student body we do will and bequeath some of the love that we hold and will always hold in our hearts for our Alma Mater, our senior dignity, best wishes for success in what ever field of work they may undertake and may they every hold high her banners.

To our faculty and deans, we decree our solemn promise to ever hold high Manassas Regional High School's standards.

To the Junior Class, we wish to leave our dignity and honor. To the Sophomore Class and the Freshman Class we bequeath the privileges and rights bestowed upon members of Manassas Regional High.

Edith Jones wills her philosophy of life, "Do unto others as you would have them do unto you." to the senior class of '55.

To Nettie Hughes, Shirley Brooks wills her short hair style.

To Elizabeth Bates, Betty Davis wills her daintiness.

To Peggy Smith, Lois Newman wills her sweetness.

To Walter Hines, Dennis Williams wills his masonry tools, hoping he will learn to use them.

To Maryola Brooks, Mary Madison wills her ballet dancing ability.

To Barbara A. Grayson, Paula Gaskins wills her ability to be quiet and stay out of trouble.

To Theodore Jones, Deloris Latney wills her height.

Shirley Thompson, Almira Honesty, and Deloris Foote wish to will to the students of the junior class class, "To have a friend, be a friend."

To Andrew Ferguson, Carl Naylor wills his No. 17 jersey so that he may be captain of the 1954 football team.

Clyde Smith and Aaron Betz will their artistic ability to Joan Smith.

To Walter Hines, Theodore Rich wills his smile and dimples.

Rachel Lamb wills her ability to solve geometry to Elizabeth Lockett.

Ruth Edgerton will her smile to Louise Frye.

Robert Colvin wills to the boys of the class of '55 his ability to deal tactfully with the opposite sex.

CLASS POEM

WE GRAVE AND REVERENT SENIORS

We, grave and reverent Seniors,
 Who thought the years so slow,
 We spent in acquisition
 Of things we had to know,
 Are filled with wild excitement.
 At last the goal is won.
 We gaze in admiration
 Upon the work we've done.
 The courses we have taken,
 The stiff exams we've passed
 Would indicate intelligence;
 With wonder we're aghast.

The faculty, they tell us,
 Are equally surprised,
 For when they found us passing
 They scarcely believed their eyes.
 Perhaps it was their wisdom
 That dragged us up the grade,
 And so we're saying "Thank You,"
 For good advice and aid.
 How often we have counted
 The time till holidays,
 And wished the hours were short.
 In education's ways!

But now we may discover
 What old folks say is true:
 Life's working day is lengthy
 And holidays are few.
 Still armed with high endeavor
 We'll meet fate with a smile
 And strive with heart undaunted,
 Remembering the while
 That life, despite misfortune,
 Is but adventure gay,
 And Death's a friend that gives us
 A last long holiday.

Aaron Betz

CLASS SONG

FAREWELL TO MANASSAS

(Tune: Auld Lang Syne)

The time has come, Manassas dear,
 When our paths must part,
 Memories of you forever
 Will be engraved within our hearts.

Refrain

Au revoir, aufweidershen, beloved,
 No matter how it's said,
 To say "Farewell, Ole Alma Mater"
 Makes our hearts so sad.

In years to come,
 And years to go
 You will always know,
 We'll think of you, Manassas Dear,
 And always love you so.

CLASS PROPHECY

Gazing into my little crystal ball I see:

Aaron Betz has become famous. He has studied abroad and is now ready to give an exhibition of his paintings in Paris.

Delores Latney and Barbara Outlaw have one of the finest beauty salons in Hollywood.

Howard Brown is the vice president of General Motors.

People are excited over the moon plane invented by Charles Tanner and serviced regularly by Thomas Hall with Joyce Veney as stewardess.

Norma Shackelford is a general in the WAAF. Katie Lawson and Edith Jones are nurses in the new army hospital in Korea.

Benjamin Ellis has opened a radio and television shop on Broadway in New York.

Delores Foote has opened a "Chic Robe" shop in Paris where all the famous stars buy their gowns.

Melvin Griffin, Samuel Moore, Clyde Smith and Lawrence Williams are head mechanics for GMC.

Glenn Harris and Dennis Williams have built exclusive homes which sell for $100,000 and up.

Mary Madison has her position as a telephone operator in the Empire State Building, New York.

William Maloy, Jr. is Secretary General to the United Nations with Ruth Edgerton and Geraldine Sutton and Olivia Thornton as his secretaries.

Carl Naylor and Leslie Coates are now coaching football at Notre Dame University. Harriette Thompson and Fredric Wilkins are instructors there.

As I look further into my crystal ball I see:

Ada Ruffin has taken over Mrs. Barnes' position as librarian at Manassas Regional High School which has been converted into a finishing school. Only the wealthy need apply.

Lester Johnson, Rachel Lamb, Joseph McCannon and Cornelia Tibbs are now instructors in great colleges in various parts of the world.

Paula Gaskins is president of the Medical Association of America. She is to make a speech at the Doctors's Ball soon.

Queen Ester Greenaway has finally reached the top in the field of music. She is now director of the National Symphony Orchestra.

As I look further and further I see a super Atomic Energy Plant where many things are being made. I see that Paul Ferguson has a sign on the inside door which reads "Business Manager." He comes in contact every day with Theodore Rich who has an electric shop on the second floor.

Shirley Brooks is known all over the world as one of the best seamstresses. She is working in Boston. Next door to her shop is Dr. Lois Newman who has her own hospital. She is quite successful.

Theodore Hackley is head mathematics teacher at the largest graduate school in the United States.

William Carter and Addison Gibbs are teaching automobile mechanics at the new Regional High Finishing School.

Jean Brown is the head nurse of the ultra modern hospital on the planet Mars. She is doing great work for the people there. Her assistants are Dorothy Williams and Shirley Thompson.

Sorry, but my crystal ball has broken.

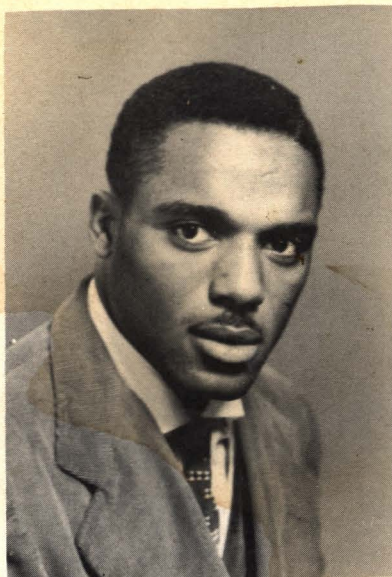

Jean Brown

SO RARE

NOTHING SO RARE AS:

Deloris Foote not blushing.
Geraldine Sutton not arguing.
Theodore Hackley talking to a girl.
Olivia Thornton not being dignified.
Carl Naylor being surpassed in any kind of athletics.
Jean Brown not being the center of attraction no matter where she be.
Robert Colvin not being able to get along with everyone.
Paula Gaskins with a boyish bob.
Rachel Lamb not being neatly dressed at all times.
Joseph McCannon getting to class on time.
Shirley Tutt not having admirers.
Norma Shackelford not being so frank.
Thomas Hall not sleeping in English class.
Mary Anderson talking above a whisper.
Aaron Betz not being sentimental about his paintings.
Harriette Thompson without her mischievous grin.
Charles Tanner not taking the girls' wallets, lunches, money, handkerchiefs, etc., from them.
Fredric Wilkins saying over ten words in any day.
William Maloy leading the French II class.
Ruth Edgerton not carrying a torch for Beverly Smith.
Benjamin Ellis telling the truth for a change.
Lois Newman not playing "hard to get."
Louis Harris not "jumping" while a jazz record is playing.
Shirley Brooks not riding in a maroon convertible, or is it the driver she's interested in?
Student Council officers without freshmen admirers.
Mildred Mann with a boyfriend.
Glenn Harris not being shy.
Addison Gibbs not working on his car in the Mechanics Shop.
Queen Greenaway not wishing Gibbs would pay as much attention to her as he does to his car.
Theodore Rich not crying the blues about his love affairs.
Barbara Outlaw merely smiling at a joke instead of having hysterics.
Clyde Smith being industrious for a change.
Mary Madison without her pleasing personality.
Lester Johnson not being liked by all.
Katie Lawson refusing to do anyone a favor.
Oliver Thornton not being so skeptical about his approach upon the opposite sex.
Betty Davis speaking before a group without crying.
Charles Austin not talking to the girls.
Shirley Thompson not being friendly and humorous.
Howard Brown not doing a good job in Industrial Arts
Almira Honesty not being studious.
Melvin Griffin not being so quiet.
Dorothy Williams not acting like a "tomboy."
Samuel Moore not getting in trouble in the Mechanics Shop.
Edith Jones not keeping a secret.
Harry Tankins without his shoes shined.
Cornelia Tibbs not "playing it cool" towards the opposite sex.
Lawrence Williams not acting sensible at all times.
Ada Ruffin seen with a boy.
William Carter and Alvin Robinson not making jokes on each other.
Dennis Williams not being a stage hand for all the Dramatic Club plays.
Bertice Taylor not talking in Class.
Joyce Veney not having a "crush" on Carl Naylor.
Parthenia King making an "A" in Music.
Paul Ferguson cutting physical education class.
Oscar King not being UP on the latest styles in men's clothing.
A gym class that likes to change.
A senior on prom night without stars in his eyes.
Jay Dee without its sponsors.
A "54" graduate not succeeding in whatever field of work he may enter.
A Regionalite without school spirit.

DECEMBER: EVENTFUL MONTH FOR REGIONAL HIGH

The Dramatic Club Presented Christmas Plays

On December 22, 1953 the Dramatic Club participated in the Annual School Christmas program with the presentation of two one-act Christmas plays. The plays were entitled "The Empty Room" by Dorothy C. Wilson and "Good Will Toward Women" by Dorothy Sterling.

"The Empty Room" is a one-act drama of the First Christmas and has a Biblical theme. The characters of this play were played by: Thomas Barnett, Jean Brown, Rachel Lamb, Paula Gaskins, Louis Harris, Robert Colvin and David Fortune.

"Good Will Toward Women" is a delightful one-act Christmas play for the Fair Sex with excellent philosophy. The characters of this play were played by: Almira Honesty, Norma Shaleford, Deloris Foote, Sylvia Dyer, Shirley Tutt and Harriet Thompson.

The sponsors and members of the Dramatic Club are deeply grateful and appreciative for the cooperation they have received from the principal and faculty members of the Regional High School.

For the remaining school season, the Dramatic Club is looking forward to the production of a series of one-act plays and one three-act play. The club also hopes to participate in the Annual State Dramatic Festival held in March at Virginia State College, Petersburg, Virginia.

Campus Club's Activities

Since its beginning on October, 1950, the Campus Club has contributed much to the entertainment of the campus students and life in general on the campus. It has also added to the beauty of the campus by installing lights on the entrance and exit gate posts. Under the able guidance of Mr. P. Walter Ellis, I, the Campus Club has grown to be one of the largest of the school. Some of its contributions include television sets for the girls' and boys' dormitories, boys' and girls' bicycle, records and record players, and clocks for the boys' and girls' dormitories.

The Campus Club sponsors an annual Gala Christmas Dinner which is looked forward to with eager anticipation by both campus students and staff. This gala event is one wherein good fellowship is always present. The club always gives gifts to its sponsors, and its principal, thus promoting good Christmas spirit.

Because of the fine closeness of feeling and cooperation by the Campus Club, they were able to sponsor the winning "Mardi Gras" contestant of 1953.

The Campus Club is proud of its contributions. It feels it is promoting good wholesome fellowship among the students and of better pupil-teacher relationship.

Officers are: President, Shirley Tutt; Vice President, Juanita Barnett; Secretary, Doris Porter; Assistant Secretary, Alphonse Jordan; Treasurer, Mr. P. W. Ellis, I.

Sponsors are: Mr. P. W. Ellis, I. Mr. I. W. Brown, Mrs. S. G. Ellis, Mrs. E. H. Smith, Mrs. J. W. Williams.

Blank Expression

A job applicant wrote "No" to the query "Have you ever been arrested?" To the following question, which was "Why?", he answered: "Never got caught."

"Open House"

Open House was sponsored by all of the home economics education classes and their teachers. It went over with great success. It was held on Friday, December 18, 1953 in the Home Ec. Cottage. The sponsors were Mrs. D. H. Hall, Mrs. M. W. Fields, and Mrs. C. C. Drumming.

Our Open House party was really a grand experience and an experience we shall not forget. We, the students, prepared the entire menu which consisted of turkey and tuna fish salad, freshly baked cakes, cookies, hors d'oeuvres and rainbow sandwiches.

Open House began at 9:30 and lasted the entire day. We had the opportunity to invite the teachers of our choice. I am sure all of them were present during the day and enjoyed seeing how well the students participated in our activity. The senior home ec. students acted as hostesses at the Open House. We really enjoyed every minute of it and I am sure everyone who attended enjoyed also.

We, the home economics education students and teachers, hope we will be able to sponsor another Open House very soon.

Norma Mundy, junior class

Regional Students

On December 10, 1953, the 10th, 11th and 12th grades met in chapel. Miss Shaw, home room teacher of 11-B, was in charge.

Miss Shaw introduced the guest speaker, who was Dr. Miller from Washington, D. C.

Dr. I. A. Miller is a native of South Carolina. He attended the elementary school there and finished his education at Allen University, the A. M. E. church school. He has risen to great heights and is now the pastor of Turner Memorial A. M. E. Church in Washington, D. C. His theme was, "The Power Of Growth".

He used an acorn to demonstrate the power of growth. He said that man plants the seeds and the acorn grows until it becomes a large tree. An acorn in a number of years will bring enough lumber to build a city.

In the Parable of the Ewe Lamb, Jesus was demonstrating the power of growth. One writer said that we must do more than grow. We must grow in grace. Animals can only grow to be larger animals, but people can grow in a certain direction. You either grow in the right direction or the wrong direction.

If you grow in the right direction, you will eternally grow in the likeness of God. Jesus said, "Out in the fields, see the lily how it grows". It once was a seed, too beautiful to behold. The amazing thing was it grew.

Jesus said to Simon "Follow Me" and Simon followed Him for three years then Jesus changed his name to Peter, and said, "Upon this rock I will build my church."

All great men and women had to grow. They grew in the right direction. Robbers, kidnappers, murderers, etc., grew in the wrong direction. There are many children committing crimes today, because they have not grown in the right direction.

Keep growing in the right direction, there's a place at the top for all of us, but it's up to us to grow to it.

Men are rushing to give us an opportunity.

The ambassadors and ministers are working hard to give us a better chance to grow in the right direction.

If everyone would grow in the right direction the world would be a better place in which to live.

Miss Shaw also acknowledged Mrs. Humphrey who was also a platform guest.

She is a native of South Carolina. She is in the real estate business.

Seniors' Performance

A Thrilling Success

The senior class presented two, two-act plays in the school auditorium on Thursday, December 17, 1953.

The first being a comedy entitled, "Kidnapping Betty". This was about a father who wanted to marry his daughter off, but did it so tactfully that all concerned were sure he was firmly opposed to it. The characters were portrayed by:

Leslie Coates
Geraldine Sutton
Shirley Thompson
Lester Johnson
Lois Newman
Dorothy Williams
Charles Tanner

The second presentation was also a two-act comedy entitled "Sophie, from Sandysville."

The theme of this play is based upon a young wealthy girl's desire to be near her fiancé, and to have a bit of fun. The setting was a rich elderly friend's country home. There was a surprise ending when the loud, unwealthy, comical, sloppy Sophie turned out to be Doris Daval, the friend the wealthy Miss Adilbert was expecting.

The characters were portrayed by Joyce A. Venev, Shirley Tutt, Robert Colvin, Ruth Edgerston, Theodore Rich.

The plays were under the direction of Mrs. R. S. Short one of the senior advisors. The plays were a success and the class plans to sponsor two more in the spring.

and daily contact with many people.

The operator is trained to be conscious of importance of personal appearance. She is, to some extent, an advertisement for the shop in which she works and if she expects to sell beauty, she must exemplify good grooming.

A pleasing personality is an asset to an operator. She is in daily contact with many types of people and must be adaptable to their moods and preferences. Therefore, a courteous manner and a desire to be of service is cultivated throughout the course.

W. C. HANDY BAND CONTEST

Plans are well on the way for the first in a series of programs to raise funds for the W. C. Handy Band Contest of the Manassas Regional High School. Contestants are busily engaged in many activities trying to determine who will be the winner and at the same time raise money to be used in the purchasing of band instruments.

Contributions will be appreciated from individuals and community organizations.

The Music Committee will have a dance on January 22, 1954 from 8:00 P.M. to 12:00 in the Vocational Building. The music for this dance will be rendered by the Solid Senders Orchestra of Front Royal, Virginia. This promises to be an affair you should not miss.

Alumni Visit Campus

Just before we left to celebrate the Christmas holidays, many alumni visited our campus. Some are in the United States Army others are attending schools of higher learning and some have entered occupational work. Among those in the army are P. F. C. Derwood Haines, a 1953 graduate, and P. F. C. Lawrence Ford, a 1952 graduate. Ford is stationed in New Jersey and after fifteen days he will be shipped to Europe where he will serve. Donald Summers, a second year student at St. Paul's Polytechnic Institute, Lawrenceville, Virginia, visited also. Leah Ray and Shirley Washington were visitors. They are attending Howard University, Washington, D. C., majoring in business education. Wendell Bennett, a student of the University of Pittsburgh, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, was a visitor for several days. Sylvia Harris, secretary to the faculty of the Fairfax Elementary School, was among those who returned. Barbara Lawson, student of North Carolina College, Durham, North Carolina, joined this group of alumni.

We were very happy to have them come back to their Alma Mater and to know that they are doing nicely in their studies and service.

Alumni Tempo

That old adage, "It is later than you think", applies to many of us. Many of us are "out of step." Make that skip and get back in step; increase your tempo with the doings of the world. The world and its inhabitants are moving at a rapid pace. In order for you to be successful and come up with your share of the booty, you must get in step with the boys of 1953. For the boy of 1953 is not inactive as an alumnus; he pays his dues on time; he gives a small annual donation for maintenance, repair, and renovation; he does not depend upon the faithful few to carry on his rightful obligation to his alma mater; he does not wait until the last minute to make arrangements to attend alumni meeting.

Yes, get in step. Include in your 15 days of leave one day for the alumni meeting or the Founder's day gathering. Make an effort for at least one of those days. Let us evaluate ourselves. The decision is ours to make. How is our tempo? Are we in step? The improvement of our tempo will help considerably in making our organization a stronger and better one. Let our organization be not compared to the brave sergeant leading his company to combat, who upon arrival at the front found that his company of soldiers had been lost en route. My fellow alumni increase your tempo.

William H. Waddell
Alumni President

GOOD GROOMING KEY TO SUCCESS

Student Council

The Student Council held its election of officers in a very democratic way. It was patterned from the United States Government. The names of the candidates were submitted to the slate after a majority vote of the "Electoral College." They were then voted upon by the Student Body. Miss Paula Gaskins was elected president. The officers are as follows: John Davis, Vice President, Barbara Grayson, Secretary, Frances Wood, Assistant Secretary, and Thomas Barnett, Treasurer. The outgoing officers are Harry Taylor, President, Leslie Coates, Vice President, Georgia Phillips, Secretary, Peggy Brooks, Assistant Secretary, and Deloris Brathwaite, Treasurer.

The Installation service was held in the auditorium on November, 1953. The former president and our principal, Mr. Bennett, administered the oath in a very colorful ceremony. Miss Gaskins presented a very splendid address.

The Student Council has a meeting on January 6, 1954 in which the president outlined the course for the rest of the school term which includes attending the state meeting and providing Civil Service within the school.

Girls In Cosmetology Learn Basic Concepts

Throughout the ages, women have sought eternal beauty. The urge to be beautiful is a universal desire found in all races, primitive and civilized. Each has contributed its share towards the development of beautiful patterns and standards. The concept of beauty is not fixed but changes with times and place. Although there are considerable variations in individual and racial taste, the elements of physical beauty are the same in many respects. Basically, beauty is anything which is attractive and appealing to the senses, particularly that of seeing and smelling. The artistic blending of color, color, design, and symmetry are characteristics of beauty.

The aim of the beauty culture course is to prepare girls to enter the field of personal service fully equipped to be general assistants in beauty shops. Manipulative skills, technical knowledge and the development of personal qualifications and social attitudes are essential parts of the training of successful operators.

Good health is a basic requirement for beauty culture students. The work requires great physical energy, long hours of standing,

NEWS OF THE CLASS

On November 4, Homeroom 8B presented its chapel program.

Eight B Homeroom has thirty students from the line of Fairfax and Prince George's counties. The month of September kept us very busy with school activities.

Miss Breuninger was in the 1st test. Eighty percent of the Homerooms in the month of September.

The month of September school calendar for the eighth grade.

Mrs. R. S. Short was guest speaker for our Homeroom, October 13th. Her acceptance of the yearbook project was a great help.

Each person has a part to play in the yearbook. We are taking an interest in the yearbook project.

These members, 180 in number, are from Brown, McCrae, Anderson and Washington-Reid Elementary Schools of Prince William County; Drew-Smith, James Lee, Louis Archer, Merrifield, Eleventh Oaks, and New Oak Grove Elementary Schools of Fairfax County, and the Front Royal Elementary School, Warren County.

With such able sponsors as R. J. Barnes, Messrs. Samuel Morse, Jackson, Chappell, Witt, we really believe that the eighth graders will get the guidance they need for development of desirable traits.

Welcome into our school family.

Why Criticize?

R. McKinney

To criticize is to find fault. It is a natural human tendency. We should not be afraid to criticize. We should be fair and objective. We should not be harsh or cruel. We should be helpful and constructive. We should be kind and gentle. We should be honest and truthful. We should be brave and courageous. We should be loyal and faithful. We should be patient and understanding. We should be forgiving and merciful. We should be loving and caring. We should be kind and gentle. We should be honest and truthful.
